Report functionality

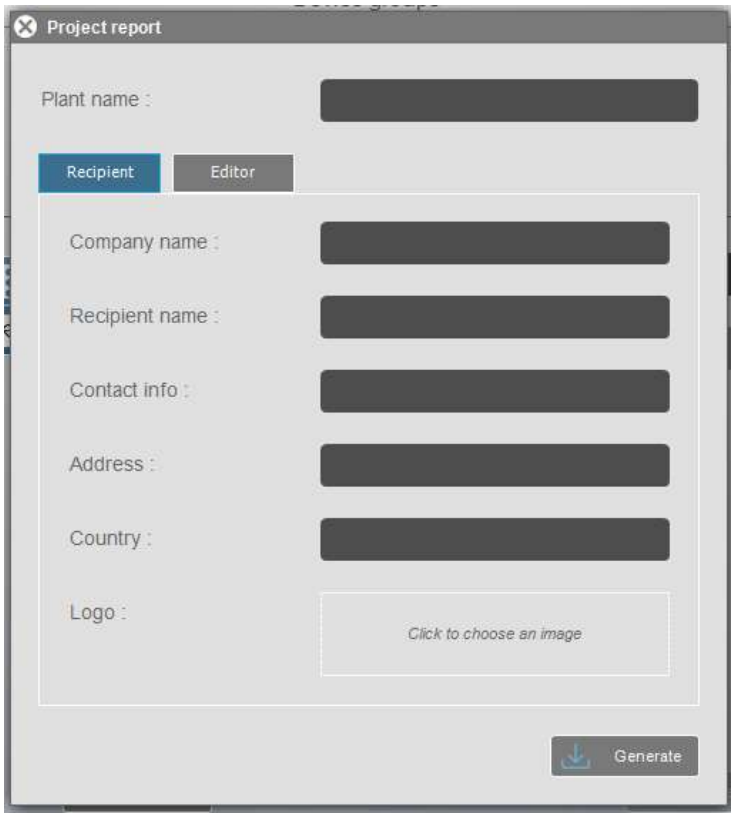

Export a plant report

The new “Report” functionality allows the user to export a .xlsx file containing information about the devices discovered by the software and some details about them.

By clicking on the “Report” button, available in the “Device groups” page of the software:

The following dialog will appear:

Within the form it is possible to fill in the information relating to both the recipient and the editor of the report. The latter will be remembered for future use.

Once done, click on “Generate” button to save the report.
